→ Introduction

At Safecon, our aim is to make the recruitment experience as simple as possible: matching our candidates motivations with our clients objectives.

Backed by consultancy and training experts, we are a niche recruitment consultancy purely focused on the Health, Safety and Environmental sector. We provide worldwide coverage, operating at all career levels in broad and diverse markets.

All our recruitment consultants are professionally trained in recruitment and health and safety, each specialising in industry markets encompassing retail, manufacturing, public sector, construction, consultancy and ore.

Our reputation for delivering outstanding results is underpinned by the reducing of timescales, minimising risks and interpreting your needs whilst never compromising on the quality of our service.

Sectors

We offer permanent and contract recruitment at any level – from newly qualified graduate to Health and Safety Director – across a wide range of sectors, with particular strengths in:

- Retail
- Public sector
- Construction
- Manufacturing
- Sales
- Planning supervision
- Consultancy
- Transport
- Environmental
- Oil and gas

On each assignment, our clients work with a single, lead consultant with particular expertise in the relevant area who will be responsible for the entire process, from brief to interview, short listing and placement – providing advice as well as proactively managing the project through to completion.

Our expertise within each sector is key to our success. For example, our Environmental Division sources employees across all industries, covering a range of specialist skills from IPPC to Air Quality to EMS, Asbestos and Ecology.

Why Choose Safecon?

You don't just want the best candidates.

You want the best candidates for you – the people with the qualifications and experience to match your specific needs who will also fit best into your culture.

Which is why we at Safecon placements invest so much time in understanding you, your culture and your criteria – an investment that we also make in our candidates so that we can ensure, as far as possible, the perfect match.
